

THE WRANGELL SENTINEL

VOL. XVIII. NO. 42

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1919

PRICE TEN CENTS

News by Cable Received Today

WASHINGTON — Dr. Grayson's latest bulletin says: "The Aresident is stronger today than at any time since his illness began."

WASHINGTON — With the President steadily improving, his physicians are having their hands full to keep his attention away from the duties of his office.

WASHINGTON — The enforcement of war time and constitutional prohibition was agreed to in conference and adopted today by the Senate. It goes to the House for final action.

HELSINGFORS — According to report received here Lenin is under arrest in Moscow. Lenin ordered the arrest of Trotsky, but failed to effect this. Instead he himself was taken into custody. The same correspondent reports that the reign of Trotsky against Bolsheviks in Moscow has been begun by a revolutionary party.

WASHINGTON — A bill increasing the authorization for the construction of the Alaskan railroad was delivered at the White House after being signed by the president of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. If it is not signed by the President within 10 days it will automatically become a law. Thus the President's illness has no effect on it.

SEATTLE, Oct. 8. — Senator Hiram Johnson of California arrived here this afternoon. He will make two speeches here tonight against the League of Nations.

PITTSBURG — A bomb was thrown into the plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company at McKeesport today. No one was injured.

WASHINGTON — Six American aviators lost their lives on the opening day of the trans-continental race. Three were contestants including Major D. H. Crissy, commander Mather field, California. Three were naval aviators who fell 500 feet into the bay at Pensacola.

CHICAGO — Lieut. B. W. Maynard was the first aviator to reach Chicago landing.

MINEOLA — Lieutenant J. B. Machle who got away in the coast to coast air race from Mineola to San Francisco will return at nine this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO — Lieut. J. P. Richter, piloting Dehaviland aeroplane with Lieut. J. B. Patrick as observer, leaving ground at 6:51 a. m. was the first of western aviators to hop off to Mineola.

VANCOUVER — All coal at the B. C. mines has raised $1.50 per ton, effective at once.

SEATTLE — The general 24-hour strike which was to have occurred in Seattle yesterday on behalf of Mooney was a fizzle, only a few hundred being out.

JUNEAU — Robert J. Sommers, formerly Territorial Mine inspector, today took the oath of office and became surveyor-general and Territorial secretary.

JUNEAU — Governor Riggs has appointed Benjamin D. Stewart, mining engineer and former mayor of Juneau, Territorial Mine inspector to succeed R. J. Sommers.

Gary, Ind., Under Martial Law Censorship of News Is Established By Order of General Wood

GARY, IND. — Shortly after arriving here late last night, Major General Leonard Wood declared the town under martial law and took command of the situation, declaring that he took this action to prevent rioting which started earlier in the day.

Before the arrival of the federal military leader, Governor Goodrich and Adjutant General Smith declared martial law with the latter in command.

Immediately after declaring martial law, General Wood issued an order that all men wearing the military uniform who were not on duty would be taken into custody and detained. This was done because some rioters were wearing the olive drab. He also forbade and street parading, outside mass meetings or gatherings of any kind without authority of the military.

Earlier in the day yesterday there was some parading and open-air meetings.

With the arrival of General Wood last night, 1,100 federal troops reached here and today are patrolling the streets. Five hundred more troops which have been doing guard duty at Omaha will come here also, it is reported. The men came from Fort Sheridan at the request of the mayor and the governor.

State troops are also assisting in keeping order today.

GARY — (Thursday afternoon) Censorship on all news of military activities in the Calumet steel strike zone now under martial law was established this afternoon by order of Major General L. P. Wood. The General said the step had been taken to prevent radical agitators in other parts of the country from learning of moves taken by the government to curb their activities.

CINCINNATI — (Wednesday) Chicago won four to one.

SEATTLE (Wednesday) — A thousand extra officers are on hand at the police headquarters ready for duty in case of riots resulting from an order preventing a proposed Mpony parade of workers today. Five hundred American league war veterans were sworn in as special policemen last night. "I expect no trouble," said Warren, "but I want to be prepared." Warren told the agitators that no inflammatory speeches would be permitted.

SEATTLE — Special dispatches to the Seattle Times, received this morning, say that the Bureau of Fisheries at Washington have received preliminary reports, showing that the Pacific Coast salmon pack is the smallest in many years, and much alarm is felt in the national capital as to the future of the industry.

The 1918 pack of Alaska salmon was approximately 6,600,000 cases, while this year it will not be over 4,400,000 cases, or about a 33 per cent loss.

Up to the present time, the only favorable reports received are those which came from Copper River and Andriaafski. The run in British Columbia, Puget Sound and the Columbia river was small also, and in all places the prices paid fishermen was higher than ever before.

Evidently the Bureau of Fisheries has not yet received all the reports from Southeastern Alaska. Some of the canneries in this section are just now ceasing operations, and in some cases the pack is larger than last year.

West Coast News

CRAIG, Oct. 8. (Special to the Sentinel by Radio) — The J. H. Sisson is due in Wrangell Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hale, who are on their way south.

The Santa Anna and Klawock cannery crews left this morning for Seattle.

The tug Countli arrived from Prince Rupert with a scow for lumber from the Craig sawmill, and will load one and one-half million feet of lumber. Longshoremen are getting a dollar an hour and are working short-handed.

Another Breakwater Petition

During the past month Oscar Wickstrom, secretary of Wrangell Local No. 10, Alaska Labor Union, has performed a service to the citizens of this vicinity by circulating a petition to Congress for a breakwater at the entrance of Etolin harbor. A like petition was circulated last April by Samuel Cunningham. After securing a large number of signatures Mr. Cunningham turned the petition over to the town council, and it was ordered sent to Delegate George Grigsby at Washington. About a month ago Delegate Grigsby cabled to the council that he had never received the petition. Mr. Wickstrom was requested to take hold of the matter. At the meeting of the council Thursday the petition was returned with 139 names, mostly of fishermen. On a motion the town clerk was instructed to write a note to Mr. Wickstrom expressing the appreciation of the council for his cooperation in a matter of such vital importance to the community.

Birthday Observed

Monday was George Sylvester's birthday and in commemoration of that important anniversary Dicky Davis gave a dinner at his apartments in the Pioneer hotel. The repast was prepared by two notable chefs, Messrs. Nelson and Davis, and was a gastronomic triumph. When dinner was announced a party of eight Epicureans gathered around the table. There was enough food before them for a dozen ordinary persons but it happened that the guests were all young fellows with extraordinary appetites. (The Sentinel recently published an article on the gormandizing tendencies of Mr. Nelson.) The ancient Romans did not have very much on this merry party of Northerners, judging by the way they made the good things disappear. However, none of the party became too full for utterance, and for two hours following the dinner the time was spent in story telling. Frank Allen, who has spent a number of years in the interior, told some wonderful things about that section of the country which is the real "far north."

Those present were Mr. George Sylvester, the honor guest, Messrs. Harry Coulter, William Taylor, Jr., Toby Harthun, Frank Allen, George Farlow, R. W. Davis and A. J. Nelson.

Sawyer Reports Juneau About Cleaned Up

B. R. Sawyer, the secretary of the Alaska Labor Union at Juneau came in last night on the Alaska, and states that Juneau is about cleaned up of all its notorious characters and most of the stills. — Ketchikan Times.

SPOKANE — James P. Rodgers, former superintendent of the White Pass and Yukon railroad, died here today.

Alaska Day Will Be Observed In Wrangell

October the 18th, Alaska Day, marks the 52nd anniversary of the transfer of the territory of Alaska from the government of Russia to the government of the United States. Alaska Day means the anniversary of the purchase of 558,401 square miles of territory for $7,200,000, or less than two cents an acre. It means the anniversary of the addition to the United States of 26,000 miles of coast line, of great wealth in water power, in fish, in furs, in minerals. But it should have a broader significance. As we celebrate the day, we should see beyond the extraordinary wealth added to the United States. The celebration of the day should thrill every man and woman, every boy and girl, with patriotism, with loyalty, with a genuine love of country. It should carry with it the broader view of what it means to us as a Territory, and as individuals to be under the influence of American ideals, to be a part of the greatest democracy in the world. — Alaska School Bulletin. (Published by Lester D. Henderson, Territorial School Superintendent.)

Will Be Observed in Wrangell

The school will observe Alaska Day by a program to be given at the regular assembly on Wednesday at 9 a. m.

There will be a song by the high school girls, and the following speeches will be given:

Alaska Day — Henry Ronning
History of the Admission of Alaska — Marion Myers

Facts on Alaska — Grammar room
The Government of Alaska — Fred Gunderson.

Friends and patrons of the school are invited to be present.

Alaska Day will be observed by the Natives of Wrangell by a get-together meeting under the auspices of the Government school, at St. Philip's Gymnasium Saturday evening, Oct. 18. A program appropriate to the occasion will be given, followed by a general social time.

The entire topic of Alaska and Alaskans will be presented by the teacher and the Native speakers in English.

Margaret, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Romie of Seward, became the bride of John P. Hanon, a radio man at Seward, last week. The young couple will live in Cordova.

N. M. Tate, superintendent of the cannery at Union Bay, was a visitor to Wrangell this week.

G. A. Tervo, Canadian Collector of Customs at the Boundary, spent Sunday in Wrangell.

Arthur Johnson of Bayview was in Wrangell this week. He came in on the Woodrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hovey went south Monday night on the Princess Mary.

F. S. Barnes, superintendent of the cannery at Lake Bay, is a visitor to Wrangell this week.

For the shave and haircut of satisfaction go to Ed Grigwire's shop, opposite drug store.

William Ryan, one of the old Sourdoughs, was in Wrangell this week after an absence of two years.

Loyal John Binkley and Emil Norman Peterson were initiated into the Moose Lodge Thursday night.

F. Waterbury was a passenger south on the Princess Mary for the States where he will spend the winter.

As an evidence that winter is approaching observe the fresh snow on the mountains surrounding Wrangell.

Mrs. J. G. Grant, who accompanied Miss Margaret Grant to Seattle three weeks ago, returned on the Admiral Evans.

W. S. Binkley has sold his boat the Esther II to Charles Olson. The sale was made as a result of a want ad in the Sentinel.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Brown left on the Princess Mary Tuesday morning for their home in Pasadena, California.

Charles Olson was busy this week getting ready for a big bear hunt. He will be accompanied on the trip by his stepson, Stanton Crawford.

Captain Sid Barrington arrived on the Hazel B No. 4 the first of the week from his mining property which is located about 100 miles beyond Telegraph Creek.

J. J. McTague, mail contractor, of Sulzer, is at the Revilla. Mr. McTague has the contract for carrying mail over the portage to Sulzer. — Ketchikan Chronicle.

Mrs. George Howard of Juneau arrived in Wrangell a few ago on a visit. Mrs. Howard is a daughter of John Fanning. She visited in Wrangell early in the summer before her marriage to Mr. Howard.

Labor Union Dance and Basket Social Was a Big Success

The basket social and dance by Alaska Labor Union No. 10 at the Rink Saturday night was a huge success. The attendance was large and there was no lack of enthusiasm. Excellent music was furnished by Natives of Wrangell and Klawock.

The affair was given to raise funds for furnishing the local labor union hall. The following figures were obtained from the committee in charge:

RECEIPTS
From basket sales	$211.50
Admission tickets	144.00
	$355.50
Less expenses	63.35
Net proceeds	$292.15

The committee has requested the Sentinel to express through its columns the thanks of the union to the Natives who donated music, and all other persons who in any way assisted in making the affair a success.

Mrs. Frank Churchill was awarded a prize for furnishing the basket which brought the highest price.

This is the second affair of a social nature that has been given by the Wrangell union, and both events were so thoroughly enjoyed that future announcements of a dance or social by the union will be received with enthusiasm.

Railroad Strike in Great Britain Settled

LONDON, Oct. 6. — The strike of railroad men which began here September 26, affecting the whole country, was settled yesterday, following a meeting of Premier Lloyd George and the executive board of the Rail Men's unions. The men are to resume work immediately and negotiations are to be resumed with the understanding that they will be completed before the end of the year. Wages are to be stabilized at the present level until September 30, 1920, and at any time after August 31, 1920, they may be reviewed in the light of circumstances then existing.

For the present, it is also agreed by the government that no adult railway man is to receive less than 51 shillings a week while the cost of living is 110 per cent above the pre-war level. For men who have been receiving less than this the arrears will be paid by the government as soon as they resume work.

Thousands of railway men returned to their places this morning with the result that all trains on the principal main lines are running. It is expected that all trains on the principal main lines are running. It is expected that all trains will be able to resume schedule about the middle of the week.

Town Buys Float

The Town of Wrangell now owns the float at the rear of the Wrangell hotel. A year ago the council took an option for one year on the float, paying Mr. Grant $50, which amount was to apply on the purchase price of $500 in case the float was taken over by the town within one year. At the regular meeting of the council last Thursday evening it was decided that the council would exercise its option. Accordingly a warrant was ordered drawn in favor of Mr. Grant for $450.

Karl Dyrendal is down with pneumonia at the Wrangell hotel.

New Native To Resume Publication

The New Native of Hyaburg, which suspended publication at the beginning of the fishing season, will resume publication some time this month under more favorable conditions. A quantity of new type has been purchased and as a result the appearance of the paper will be considerably improved. The New Native is published by the Natives of Hyaburg under the supervision of Marius Hansome, the Government teacher. No paper comes to our exchange table that is more welcome than the New Native.

Jonah the Truant. Whether the story of Jonah's being cast out of the ship, swallowed by a big fish mistranslated as the whale, and his being bad medicine for the fish, injuring its digestive powers by overloading his stomach so that it had to take him to land and get rid of him, and also his preaching at Ninevah is history or not, is immaterial. It is a good story, warning the would-be-truant to his God and the world, and telling him where he is getting off, when he tries to be a truant. All come.

Help Forge an ENDLESS CHAIN of Home Trade Dollars

Fog Magnifies.
If you see a person in a fog he seems to be much bigger than usual. The same thing happens when you see men or cattle on the top of a hill against the horizon in twilight. In both cases you judge them to be farther away than they really are, and consequently they appear uncommonly large.

Statement of the ownership, management, circulation, etc., required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of the Wrangell Sentinel published weekly at Wrangell, Alaska, for October 1, 1919.

United States of America, Territory of Alaska, ss.
First Judicial Division.
Before me, a notary public, in and for the Territory aforesaid, personally appeared J. W. Pritchett, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Wrangell Sentinel and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher: J. W. Pritchett, Wrangell, Alaska.

Editor: same.

Managing Editor: same.

2. That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.) J. W. Pritchett, Wrangell, Alaska.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) Bank of Alaska, Wrangell, Alaska.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is: (This information is required from daily publications only.) J. W. PRITCHETT.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 2nd day of October, 1919.

Natives Like The Sentinel

While on our trip to the West Coast last week we spent a few hours in the Native town of Bayview. The majority of the inhabitants were still out fishing. However, we added a number of new names to the Sentinel's subscription list. Following is a list of Bayview citizens who now receive the Sentinel each week:

R. J. Peratovich
George Peratovich
L. P. Wilson
G. H. Fields
John K. Skan
Jimmie Jackson
John W. Anisket
Peter Anisket

George Longley
H. L. Rowley.

Song That Is Deathless.

The "homeless bard of home," John Howard Payne, was born in New York city, June 9, 1792, and his song is one of those which gained immediate popularity, but enriched all who handled it except the author. It came to be written in this manner: While Charles Kemble was manager of the Covent Garden theater, London, in 1823, he bought a quantity of Payne's writings, among which was a play entitled "Clari, the Maid of Milan." Payne was almost starving in a garret in Paris, when he altered this play into an opera and introduced into it the words of "Home, Sweet Home." So tremendous was the immediate success that over 100,000 copies were sold during the first year. The great Patti constantly sang it in this country when on tour 60 years ago, and in fact it appeared for years on programs throughout Europe and the United States.

Glimpse of the Past.

An odd bit of the past turns up in a list of old publications soon to be sold at auction, namely, to give it its full imposing title, "A Sermon Preached at White-Chapel, in the Presence of Many Honourable and Worshipful, the Adventurers and Planters for Virginia," and "Published for the Benefit and Use of the Colony Planted, and to Be Planted There, and for the Advancement of Their Christian Purposes," Rev. William Symonds preached that sermon, notes Christian Science Monitor, and described Virginia as a land "with the fruitfulness whereof England, our mistress, can not compare, no, not when she is in her greatest pride." Yet he preached to rather a sorry congregation, says history, largely composed of immigrants who had failed at home through bad habits little calculated to help in a new country.

Preserved Health By Walking.

Sir Hermann Webber, the doyen of European physicians, who died at the age of ninety-seven, had a prescription for longevity that was extremely simple, and it possessed the additional advantage of being quite inexpensive. "Walk, walk, walk, every day," he said, "and whilst walking give the arms full play. By so doing the bones, blood, muscles, nerves and brain will be kept in healthy activity. And never mind the weather. Take your exercise, be the day wet or fine, hot or cold! Above all, avoid sitting over a fire. Nothing is more conducive to senility." At the ripe old age of ninety-seven Sir Webber might be seen taking exercise daily in Hyde park, covering from ten to forty miles a week. His hobby was the collection of old Greek coins and medals. He was knighted by Queen Victoria in 1899.

Quaint Lithuanian Customs.

No country in Europe, it is said, has so faithfully clung to the remnants of an old culture, which is manifested everywhere in its daily routine, as Lithuania. Primitive steam bath establishments, in which the whole family took the weekly bath, are still believed necessities, and no home can be found that does not reverence its "nainas," the hearth. The Lithuanians were originally fire-worshippers, and it is believed the hearth was the place at which the sacred rites of the old cult were observed. Each farm is an independent kingdom, and the "kleite," in which harvests and tools are stored, is still preserved. The spinning room, in which flax, linen and wool are made into cloth for the entire household, has also been maintained.

Majesty of the Law.

"Here, now!" sternly commanded Constable Sam T. Slackpooter, the redoubtable sleuth of Petunia. "You fellows move on there! Scatter out! You're blocking the sidewalk so folks can't get along. And, besides all that, I want to see a little of that there dog fight myself before it is all over." —Kansas City Star.

A Successful Fishing Crew

As previously stated in the Sentinel the West Coast had a good run of fish the past year. Here is the record of one fishing boat operated by five Natives:

On July 7 the Klawock No. 5 left Bayview for Hood Bay with the following crew: Jim Peratovich, captain; John K. Skan, pilot; John Peratovich, chief cook; Jimmie Jackson, second cook; Thaddeus Isaac of Hydaburg. They fished until September 16 and during those 71 days earned considerably over $10,000. One share went to the boat. Consequently there were six shares at $1800.85 each.

John K. Skan who was telling us of the catch was loud in his praise of Superintendent Hale of Klawock. He says Mr. Hale depends on the fisherman and says that a 20 or 30 h. p. boat is the kind of a trap he likes.

Salt and Water.

If you will look at a geographical globe, it may surprise you to discover how little dry land there is beneath the equator. In fact, nearly all of the land of the terrestrial planet is in the northern hemisphere. The bulk of South America lies below the equator; likewise about one-third of Africa, and the whole of Australia. But all the rest is north of that line, barring islands and the mass at the South pole. The world is mostly water. One per cent of the water in the oceans would cover all the land of the globe to a depth of 290 feet. Dissolved in the water of the oceans is enough salt to make 4,800,000 solid cubes each of them one mile on an edge.

Long Lawsuit.

A lawsuit regarding Rhodesian mining rights, which has reached the house of lords in its fourth year is quite a legal infant when compared with some that have preceded it. The Thellusson will case, for example, dragged out in the courts from 1797 to 1857. Another similar action at law, known as the Bishop-Demetra will case, lasted 122 years. Even this, however, is not a record, says London Tit-Bits. For in 1908 there was settled at Friemar a law suit that had been in progress since 1430. The raising of a dam was the point at issue, and it occupied the courts for exactly 478 years.

Leave Their Tails Behind Them.

Most of the reptiles of the Colorado are colored like their surroundings, and are difficult to detect. Others can change their colors to suit their surroundings, while not a few of the desert lizards are able to part with their tails very readily when they are seized. There is humor in the ways of desert tortoises. When one meets another—unless both are males, when a fight inevitably takes place—each nods its head rapidly up and down as though in salutation, and sometimes noses are touched as they pass.

First Lodge Social of Fall Season

Given Last Night by the Arctic Brotherhood

The first lodge social of the fall and winter season was given by Camp Wrangell No. 28, Arctic Brotherhood.

There was a large attendance. All seemed to be expecting a good time and they surely had it. Dancing and card playing were the chief amusements. During the evening a delightful lunch was served.

The A. B. social committee for the season is composed of H. W. Gartley, C. M. Coulter, and M. O. Johnson.

A Visit to the West Coast

Last week the Sentinel man had the pleasure of visiting three prosperous towns on the West Coast.

At Klawock Mr. W. T. Hale, the affable superintendent for the North Pacific Trading & Packing company, made us feel welcome and at home. We found that the cannery had had a record pack. In the company store we met Mr. Lindsay who showed us through the establishment. We were surprised to find a wonderfully complete stock of goods which embraced about everything a fisherman could ever think to call for. We learned that the Klawock Cold Storage plant, with Mr. A. McCue as manager, will soon be in operation.

From Klawock we went across the bay to the Native town of Bayview. Here we met Mr. H. L. Rowley, the Government teacher, who is in charge of the village. The school building is one that would be a credit to a town three times the size of Bayview. It is especially well lighted, the windows being large and high up. The floors had been thoroughly oiled. School was in session. We visited the various rooms and found perfect order in each.

The members of the faculty besides the principal are Miss Anna A. Ant, recently of Minnesota, Miss Margaret Grube, recently of Bismark, North Dakota, and Miss Marietta Marsden, of Metlakatla, who is a graduate of a Seattle High school.

In the basement, provision has been made for instruction in manual training and domestic science. There are also shower baths.

Mr. Rowley took us through the store of the Klawock Commercial company, which is owned by Natives and operatives for their benefit. We were again surprised to find such a large and varied stock of goods, all kept in the best of order. The stock shows that it has been carefully selected to meet the needs of that vicinity.

Mr. Rowley accompanied us up Main street as far as the store of Robert J. Peratovich who made us feel welcome, although he was busy waiting on customers. We also visited the places of business of Jack I. Peratovich, Maxfield Dalton, Roberts & Co., and Benson & Demmert. One thing we noticed particularly in Bayview was the way in which the Natives have adopted the custom of oiling their floors. At first we supposed it was only the business houses, but we found that the floors of residences were also oiled.

From Bayview we went to Craig. Here we were not so rushed for time, the boat schedule being such that we were permitted to spend three days in the metropolis of the West Coast. Craig has had a most prosperous season and every one is optimistic as to the future. A. L. Brown stated that he had done far more business this year than last. Ed Wright and H. Burton both reported business in their line as being good.

Since we were last in Craig C. E. Hibbs & company have entered the mercantile field. We found Mr. Hibbs and his partner, Roy Schotwell, busy in their new store which has a most complete stock of general merchandise, marine, shelf and heavy hardware, and everything else for the fisherman, including a complete stock of gas boat supplies. This firm has recently bought L. K. Halvorsen's stock of goods and store building. The Halvorsen stock will be moved into the Hibbs store. Mr. Halvorsen is not retiring from business on account of old age, but in order to engage in a different line of work. He expects to become a fish buyer and says that next season he will have his own boat on the grounds ready for business.

The presence of Standard Oil engineers who were making surveys of the proposed sites for an oil station left little doubt in our mind that Craig is soon have an oil station as well as a custom house.

We visited the Craig school and found every evidence of good school work being done. Mrs. N. H. Lambson is principal.

The courtesy and hospitality with which we were received by our friends on the West Coast makes us wish that we could make the trip oftener. Our one big regret upon returning was that we were unable to make our itinerary include all the towns on Prince of Wales Island.
